

Building Today's youth; Tomorrow's leaders Alexander Sierra

Today's youth; tomorrow's leaders expresses that young children who play today will take a step forward to becoming big leaguers tomorrow. By taking a step forward you need to get good grades and listen to your heart. Believing in yourself will allow you to succeed.

Baseball is thrilling! This sport has taught me to always make sure I enjoy what I do and to always maintain my focus. Being responsible has taught me to be on time. Making positive choices will allow me to win in any game I play in life. Keeping these strategies will make me a leader for tomorrow.

Tomorrow, as in the future I will create a Baseball academy for children that will help them accomplish what I have which is confidence and success. Continue practicing and you will always make the Home Run!

HOW WILL YOU HELP?

Building Today's youth; Tomorrow's leaders

Joseluis Sierra

Building today's youth and tomorrow's leaders to me symbolizes that as children we start off playing T-Ball until we can one day reach the 3,000 career hit goal just like Roberto Clemente and Derek Jeter. That's when we become leaders. When I grow up I want to be a first round draft pick in Major League Baseball. Baseball is exhilarating! I take pride in my athletic ability.

Today I will give it my all with leadership and discipline. As the oldest of four boys in my family I will set an example for my brothers while being the leader in making good choices in life. A leader to me is Coach Jesus Araujo. He is a leader to me because he is always there for the team. He sets the example with commitment and dedication. He teaches us responsibility and the techniques of baseball. He chooses to participate with my teammates and I instead of hanging out with his friends.

As I become tomorrow's leader I want to create a charity for unfortunate children who don't have the economic resources to purchase baseball bats and gloves who wish to fulfill their dream of becoming a big leaguer. Together if we follow our heart to help one another we will also make more leaders for tomorrow.

The Reason I like Baseball

The reason I like baseball is because I grew up with 2 older brothers that play baseball. They show me how to play since I'm the little one, they pick on me because they are better than me but they only knew I'm going to be better because of them. They inspire me.

Baseball is my favorite sport. One of the reasons why baseball is my favorite sport is I'm good at it. It's fun to play and meet new friends playing. One of the reasons why I really like to play is because I like to hit the ball. So these are some of the reason why I like baseball. One because of my brother's .Two because of the Yankees. Three because I'm good at it. Four because is fun to play.

Building Today's Youth...Tomorrow's Leaders

Youth today are tomorrows leaders. They represent the future. Anything in life is possible if you work really hard for it. School and education plays a big role in this. With out education we wouldn't know what to do in life. Today we have role models that we can look up to and follow. With the right help and direction "Todays Youth Can Become Tomorrows Leaders."

Todays generation is the future for tomorrow. Kids play sports and do activities to keep themselves busy and stay out of trouble. They also do the activities because its fun. They like to do things that make them happy. Great things in life require hard work and do not come easy.

To be involved in any kind of sport or activity in school or out of school, requires you to have good grades. My favorite sport is baseball. I love playing baseball. Last year I did bad in school and my grades dropped. I had to repeat 1st grade. My mom was not happy and she told me that if I didn't do good in school this year that I was not going to play. I immediately started studying and kept my good grades up, so this season I was able to play. I wanted to make my mom happy and proud. It took a lot of work and studying to keep my grades up. School is where you learn a lot of things. I learned that if I continued to do bad in school, I was not going to be able to do the things that I liked to do.

When you do something good, you get rewarded in life. People start looking up to you. You become a role model for the younger kids. They see all the good things and the fun you have doing it, that they want to do the same. They also know that you work really hard at it. "Leadership is the capability to inspire assurance and support among people in a group in order to perform some task." It is nice to know that we can ask for help if we need it.

Kids today can become tomorrows leaders, with education, responsibility, discipline, rewards and making sure that they are doing the right thing. We have a lot of resources that can help us, if we need help. We just have to reach out and grab the opportunities that are given to us, so that tomorrow leaders can pass on the learnings to the next generation.

What Baseball Means to Me

Baseball means to me as a baseball family. I love baseball because it inspires me to believe in myself that I can do it if I try. Baseball is one of my favorite sport. My friends help me and my teammates to believe that we can win or lose anything but we still did team work to prove that we are a Bridgeport Caribe league Family. The reason I try to do my best is that I practice hard study hard and do my best to succeed in school and to get A's and B's on my grades.

I try really hard to believe, achieve, and succeed. That's what taught me how to do well in school and then baseball. My Baseball family and friends will stay in my heart whether I leave somewhere or not. I will always remember my Baseball Caribe league in my memories forever and ever. together. →

Baseball is a sport I practice all the time with my family. It's my favorite sport because I have learned how to hit homeruns n how to be a great catcher and day by day I get better at it. I can win or lose but I love playing. Today I play n I don't know if I'm going win or lose but I know I will always try my best. Some of the reasons why I love baseball is because I admire Derek Jeter from the Yankees.

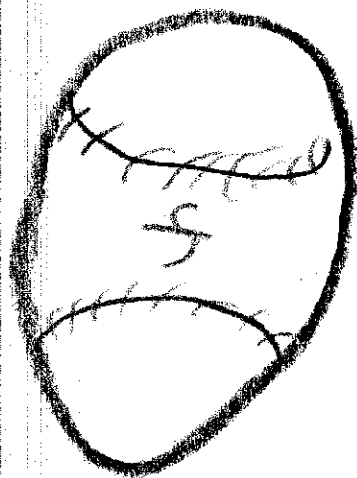

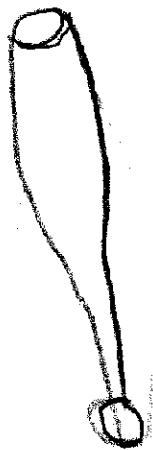

I like to practice to perfect my game skills because one day I will be better then Derek Jeter. I like the way the coaches help us learn. I like meeting new people in the process of the game. And I like competing n playing with my brothers who also love playing baseball. These are my reason to why like baseball

What the Bridgeport
Caribe Youth League
means to me is that I get to get away for a while and have a little fun. Also, with the Caribe Sports it help me get my mind off
of things. The Bridgeport Caribe has given me a great opportunity to have an fun and enjoyable
time playing baseball.
The best part is that their motto is "Building
today's youth: tomorrow's leaders. They also make sure you do in school
if not you don't get to play whatever sport
you love to play. Basically,
all the Caribe wants is so very simple, just do good or try your best

during school. Caribbe would not like to see one of their players that have a grade lower than a 'C'. Actually, with all these sports it can help me in the future in college or high school. This can help me because I can get a scholarship
for sports.

Leonardo Gonzalez.
Caribe taught me to be a good student and participate in school activities. So I am going to stay in the Caribe league. Until I am old enough to get a scholarship to move to higher leagues.

What that means to me is that if you work hard, listen, and learn from your mistakes you'll be able to use all the skills that you learned as an adult and you will succeed at your dreams. What I can do since I know this is if I work hard I can accomplish my goals of succeeding in school, being a magician, and being a doctor. In conclusion if I follow the motto I will be successful and be a leader.

Building Today's Youth...Tomorrow's Leaders.

My name is James A. Gilliard and I play for Santurce Minors (# 4). This is my third year playing for BCYL. I like it because I get to play baseball and make new friends.

What I think "Building Today's Youth...Tomorrow's Leaders" means is, that the kids from today are going to be the leaders of tomorrow. So the grown ups have to make sure they teach us right from wrong and make sure we learn how to respect each other and make sure we know how to work together. In the future any of us can be teacher's, Governors, police and even The President.

We have to learn that if we do good, we can be whatever we want. We just need to work hard and follow the rules. We can be leaders now, even though we are young. We can do good in school, we can listen to our parents and other authority. By doing this, we teach other kids right from wrong, so that makes us leaders now. So when we grow up, we can be a good example to others. I think that I am a leader already, because I am on the Honor roll in school, I am Student of the Month, I have been Citizen of the month. I am Captain of the Safety Patrol at school and I have been chosen to be a peer mediator, and I'm only 10. So if I can do it, other kids can do it too. I am a Leader and will continue to be a leader.

BCYL ESSAY

Bridgeport Caribe Youth League builds today's youth. They do this by explaining to kids how good sportsmanship, good attitude, and good behavior will help you strive in school and in life. When I go to any BCYL events its like you're walking into good spirit, when I talk to Jonny he is always in a good mood; it doesn't matter the day or the time. When I say that BCYL explains how good sportsmanship can build our youth it does, when my team lost in the last game of the season our whole team was mad; right when my coach said that we were going to go get ice cream for all of our good efforts all our sadness turned to joy. When I said BCYL teaches good attitude it does that to, when I was on the mound pitching I was doing really bad do to the reason that I was getting mad that I was doing bad. So the umpire came out to talk to me and he told me to keep my chin up and it is just a game. After that I threw strike after strike after strike. BCYL also builds tomorrows leaders it does by urging the kids to get good grades. It does this by letting the kids go on a really nice trip at the end of the season, last year we went to Yankees stadium, and this year we went to see the New York Nicks at Madison Square Garden! That's how BCYL is "Building Today's Youth.....Tomorrow's Leaders"

Today's youth, Tomorrow's leaders

I feel that the motto building today's youth.... tomorrow's leaders mean that the league will help you learn and change your behavior/attitude towards school, parents, and mostly towards school work/assignments. So that tomorrow (later in life) you will be a strong, confident, hard worker, respective person/leader. this motto also means that no matter who you are if you try hard enough you can change and be a great respectable leader

Building Today's Youth... Tomorrow's Leaders

BCYL has this motto and it encourages the players. Caribe has always been focused on the youth even if they are not players. Everytime someone had a problem someone was there to talk to you or make you feel better. This year is my first year actually playing for them but my family has been involved since it started. I remember when my brother was doing bad in school John Torres would call him at least once a week just to talk to him and see how he was doing. It brought up his attitude and made him feel appreciated. This league does so much for the kids. Caribe encourages everyone to make good grades and they actually reward them. Every one that gets honors gets to go on some kind of trip and its always phenomenal. That would really inspire me to get good grades. Caribe also tries to help with the players futures. Tomorrow's Leaders. They help players get scholarships for college. That's amazing because a lot of people don't go to college because its too much money. I would really want to look into that for me. Also BCYL has a program for SAT practice. That is really helpful for high school kids to prepare for SAT's where they don't have to a bunch of money. Caribe is always looking out for the children, players and how they can succeed in the future. I think this motto is perfect to describe this league.
